STERN PART QUICKLY SINKS

Hamburg-American Line Steamer Bavaria Rescues Eight Members of the Ill Fated Oklahoma's Crew South of Sandy Hook—Information of Disaster Comes by Wireless to New York.

New York, Jan. 6.—A message reported that the revenue cutter Seneca had picked up one of the Oklahoma's lifeboats which contained the bodies of four men. They are supposed to have died from exposure.

New York, Jan. 6.—The oil tank steamer Oklahoma broke in two amidships without warning at 7:30 a. m. Sunday, south of Sandy Hook, and a large number of her crew of some forty men perished.

The stern section, in which was situated all the heavy machinery of the vessel, and on which there were thirty-two members of the crew, sank almost immediately.

Eight members of the crew were rescued by the Hamburg-American line steamer Bavaria. Some of the Oklahoma's men said they saw an open boat of the Oklahoma put away from the wreck with ten men in it. This information was contained in a wireless dispatch received by the Hamburg-American line from Captain Graaf of the steamer Bavaria, which is proceeding to Boston with the eight survivors of the tanker on board. The message, which came by way of Siasconset, said:

"On Jan. 5 at 6 a. m. we sighted signals of distress of a vessel. The wind was north-northeast with a velocity of forty miles an hour. The seas were high and rough. At dawn we saw the forepart of a steamer floating on the water. It was the tank steamer Oklahoma from New York.

Exhausted Men Rescued.
"At 8 a. m. we were close to the wreck and lowered a boat with six men, who succeeded, after great effort, in seizing a rope that was thrown to them from the Oklahoma. The men of the Oklahoma lowered themselves into the boat, quite exhausted by their experience of the last twenty-four hours.

"Captain Gunther said that Sunday at 7:30 a. m., during heavy weather and without any previous warning, the ship suddenly broke in two behind the bridges. In about twenty-two minutes the after part of the ship, with a crew of thirty-two men, sank into the deep, the stern pointed upward with the propeller twirling.

"The forepart was kept afloat by the bulkhead, the stem up to the rear edge protruding from the water. The lifeboats either went down with the ship or were smashed immediately after the catastrophe.

"Sunday evening a Spanish steamer (probably the Manuel Calvo) had appeared in the vicinity of the Oklahoma, but was unable, owing to the bad weather, to accomplish anything. Immediately after the Bavaria reached the scene the United Fruit steamer Tenadores arrived on the scene of the disaster, but there was nothing left to be done, the Bavaria having taken off the men. The lifesaving work took place in latitude 39.07 north, longitude 73.45 west."

SETS ASIDE RAIL CONTRACT

Decision of Federal Judge May Result in Sale of Road.

Cleveland, Jan. 6.—In federal court here Judge William L. Day handed down a decision terminating the five and a half years of litigation that has involved the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad since it went into the hands of a receiver in June, 1900. He upheld the plea of the minority stockholders, setting aside the contracts by which the Wheeling and Lake Erie and the Wabash railroad were to turn over to the Wabash-Pittsburg terminal 25 per cent of the gross receipts on all interchange of traffic as illegal and void.

In the decision the claim against the road of the Central Trust company of New York for $8,000,000 was sustained. This feature of the decision may necessitate a sale of the road.

SHACKLETON DOESN'T FEAR COMPETITION.

London, Jan. 6.—Concerning the reported projects of an American Antarctic expedition, Sir Ernest H. Shackleton said: "I have no fear of American competition. It would be a compliment to me if others adopted my plans and for two nations to compete would make it more interesting. Of course, if anything in the nature of a race occurs, I shall do my best to win the honor for Great Britain."

Governor Ferris Arrives in Copper Strike District.

PRACTICAL TRUCE IN EFFECT

Michigan Executive Hopes to Find Some Method of Ending Industrial Dispute at Calumet and Other Points. Miners Assert They Have Made Enough Concessions, but Company Officials Are Quite Reticent.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 6.—Governor W. N. Ferris of Michigan took hold of the strike situation in the copper country. With his coming a practical truce went into effect and both sides to the difficulty expressed a willingness to await his findings before initiating new measures in the industrial warfare.

Open hearings are to mark the governor's investigations, he announced. The state executive held a conference with George Nichols, special prosecutor in charge of the grand jury investigating lawlessness.

The governor's announcement that he hoped to find some method of settling the struggle between the copper mine owners and the Western Federation of Miners failed, however, to influence the attitude of defiance toward each other.

The union representatives announced they would be on the defensive so far as settling the strike is concerned. "We made enough concessions when John B. Densmore of the federal department of labor was here last week," said O. N. Hilton, the federation's counsel.

Visit May Do Some Good.

The company pronouncements were less definite, but they agreed the visit of the state executive might be productive of considerable good.

It was thought likely that the governor will pay particular attention to the Moyer-Tanner deportation, the progress which the grand jury has made toward clearing up cases of lawlessness and the activities of the Citizens' alliance.

An exodus of private policemen began. John T. Vickery took forty-nine of these men back to New York. They had been employed at the properties of the Mohawk and Ahmeek companies in the northern end of the strike zone.

A crowd that packed the railroad station and extended three deep up the street to the governor's hotel greeted him. The local reception committee was swamped by the rush of citizens, but managed to escort their guest to the hotel veranda from which he addressed the crowd.

"I came to seek information," he said. "I promise nothing, but it is time the warring elements of this community got together and learned once more how to live as neighbors. My prayer is that this peace may come speedily."

South Dakota Republican Factions Make Nominations.

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 6.—Senator Coe I. Crawford was renominated by the majority Republican faction for the United States senate and Congressman Charles Burke was selected as the minority faction's candidate to oppose him in the March primaries at the meeting of state proposal committees here.

There were several contests which called out some bitterness, especially over congressional selections, leaving one district without a nomination on the majority list and a free for all campaign west of the Missouri river.

MINE TO SAFEGUARD MEN

Strikers Agree to Return to Work at Black Diamond, Wash.

Seattle, Jan. 6.—An agreement was reached by the Pacific Coast Coal company and representatives of 840 miners who quit work in the coal mines at Black Diamond last Thursday, alleging that the mine was unsafe, under the terms of which the men will return to work immediately, the company to install additional safeguards.

NEW RECORD FOR BEACHEY

Turns Seven Somersaults in One Flight.

San Francisco, Jan. 6.—Turning seven somersaults in a biplane in one flight Lincoln Beachey of San Francisco established a new aviation record. One of the loops was executed directly above a crowd of more than 20,000. In another loop Beachey did what is known as the "corkscrew" twist while his aeroplane was in a perpendicular position.

A feature of the exhibition was a somersault performed around a hydro-aeroplane. Since he turned his first somersault in the air five weeks ago Beachey has done the trick forty-three times.

LEISHMAN LOSES HIS CASE

Pennsylvania Supreme Court Reinstates Attachment.

Philadelphia, Jan. 6.—Stock market dealings of John G. A. Leishman, former United States ambassador to Germany, figured in an appeal decided by the Pennsylvania supreme court here when his former bankers and brokers succeeded in having reinstated an attachment for $70,000, a balance alleged to be due them on Mr. Leishman's account.

The transactions, it is said, took place in the latter part of 1912, on the London market, while Leishman was filling the diplomatic post at Berlin. Raymond Pynchon & Co., through whom, it is asserted, the ambassador dealt, are bankers and brokers of New York, Paris and London, claiming that Mr. Leishman owed the balance of $70,000 for stocks, bonds and securities purchased for his account they brought suit for recovery by foreign attachment in Pittsburgh (Pa.) common pleas court.

Treasury Department Sends Out Income Tax Blanks.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The form to be used and regulations to be followed by individuals in making returns of income subject to the new federal income tax have been sent out by the treasury department. Every citizen of the United States, whether living at home or abroad, every person in the United States and every nonresident alien who has income from United States investments of $3,000 or more must make such return.

For the year 1913 the specific exemptions will be $2,500 or $3,333.33 in the case of a married person, and in future years $3,000 and $4,000. Where the tax has been withheld on part of the income at the source, or where part of the income comes as dividends upon stock of a corporation which is taxable under the corporation tax section of the law, the regulations set forth that such incomes shall be discounted from the individual's total income when computing the amount on which he is taxable.

The law imposes a tax of 1 per cent and provides that individuals who have an income of more than $20,000 and not more than $50,000 shall pay an additional tax of 1 per cent on such amounts; on all more than $20,000 and not more than $75,000, 2 per cent; on all more than $75,000 and not more than $100,000, 3 per cent; all more than $100,000 and not more than $250,000, 4 per cent; all more than $250,000 and not more than $500,000, 5 per cent, and all more than $500,000, 6 per cent.

Returns must be in the hands of the collector of internal revenue in the district where the payee lives, or where he has his principal place of business, not later than March 1. Failure to observe this time limit will be punished with fines ranging from $20 to $1,000.

New Orleans, Jan. 6.—George Pfandner, chief steward, was killed and Frank Osterman, a fireman, was injured seriously in an explosion aboard the German tank steamer Geestemünde. The explosion was in a compartment containing 3,000 gallons of crude oil.

Damage will amount to several thousand dollars.

GREAT BRITAIN
WATCHES CANAL

English Statesmen Look Ahead In Foreign Affairs.

FOREST FIGHT WILL GO ON.

Western Men Insist Reserves Are Too Large and That Many Settlers Are Deprived of Homes—Knoxville, Tenn., Likely to Receive Favors From McAdoo.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 6.—[Special.]—It will come home to the American people in course of time that Great Britain did not make the Hay-Pauncefote treaty for the simple reason of helping the United States construct a waterway uniting the two oceans. It will be found that the English statesmen have always been looking ahead in all foreign affairs. English statesmen did not put a provision in that treaty stopping America from fortifying the canal for the fun of it, but because Great Britain intended to enforce that provision if the time ever came when it was to her interest to do so. And the canal tolls were not made equal among all nations for any other purpose than to make the shipping of the United States pay as much as all other nations when it passed through the United States canal. After awhile our statesmen may find that whenever they are dealing with English statesmen they should keep their eyes open.

How Many Cares?
Wandering through an issue of the Congressional Record of the days just before the recess I happened to notice that there was a long discussion as to whether the Democrats did the Republicans a grievous wrong in excluding them from the conference on the currency bill. There were bitter lamentations on the Republican side and delving into past records to show what an extraordinary thing had happened in legislative circles. And yet, ten days or two weeks after the final act no one cared; no one asked how the currency act was passed. People were interested in how it was going to work out and its effect on business.

In Real Need of Rest.

It was the corps of official reporters of congress who needed rest. They needed a holiday more than senators or representatives. They had to stay on the job all the time. The "pingpong" adjournments of the senate gave the senate reporters a little time, but the manner in which Jim Mann held the house in session day after day when there was no quorum compelled the attendance of the reporters, whether there were forty or 400 members present. And these official reporters have had mighty little in the way of vacations since the days of Roosevelt.

Fast Talkers.

Speaking of the reporters, I asked one of the old timers about the fast talkers in the house, and he says that there are quite a number who can speed up on occasions. There are about forty or fifty men in the house who can talk as fast as Littlefield of Maine, and he set the limit for the time he served, because he could go ahead for hours. Before him H. U. Johnson had the record.

Metz of New York is now the fastest talker, but he goes for only a short time. Then there is young Murray of Massachusetts, who can talk long and fast. The others swift of speech are Ferris and Carter of Oklahoma, J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, Tribble of Georgia, Stephens of Texas and Sisson of Mississippi. All of these are frequently in the debates.

The official reporters have a theory that the increased membership of the house tends to fast talking, as so many members want to have their "say."

Old Fight Renewed.

It is apparent that the old fight between the representatives of western states and the forest service will be renewed in the consideration of the agricultural bill. The western men still insist that the forest reserves are too large and that many settlers are deprived of homes on that account.

How Times Change.

Looking over an old copy of the Congressional Record recently, I saw it in black and white where La Follette, then a member of the house, supported Tom Reed in his tyrannical throttling of the minority; also where he was a part of the committee that made up the McKinley tariff, one of our greatest protective measures; also that he stood with the solid majority of Republicans all the time. But that was nearly a quarter of a century ago. And times have changed.

Knoxville, Reserve City

If Knoxville, Tenn., should be made a reserve city under the new banking plan it would be on account of the long and lasting friendship existing between Secretary McAdoo and Congressman Austin. While it is not likely that Knoxville will be given such distinguished preferment, it is a good guess that the city will get anything else that is within reach.

Office Seekers Persistent.

The more jobs provided the larger the crop of office seekers. Taking the deputy collectors out of the civil service, keeping the income tax collectors out of the civil service and the employees under the new currency act, has only whetted the appetite of the hungry Democrats.

COMMITTEE FACES
SERIOUS PROBLEM

Mapping Out Reserve Districts and Locating Banks.

New York, Jan. 6.—The task of setting up the machinery which is to put in motion the new banking system of the country was taken up here by the federal reserve organization committee, consisting of Secretary McAdoo of the treasury department and Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture. On this committee, under the new law, devolves the responsibility of mapping out the regional reserve districts and locating a bank in each.

A number of New York's leading financiers gave their opinions on the subject. It quickly developed the committee has a difficult task on its hands and that probably it will be impossible to satisfy both New York and the rest of the country. Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank, said he thinks the committee will find it impossible to work out a plan that would fulfill all requirements.

"It presents almost an insoluble problem," said Secretary McAdoo, when Mr. Vanderlip had given his opinion as to the manner in which the regional reserve districts should be drawn up.

"I think that is what you are facing," said Mr. Vanderlip. "It is one of the most difficult problems that I ever faced. Oversight and control spell the whole story of this law. If we get the proper oversight and control the law will work, in spite of its defects. If we do not, it will not work."

VOTERS MAY BUY CAR LINES

Superior Election in April Will Have Municipal Ownership Issue.

Superior, Wis., Jan. 6.—The proposal to have the city take over and operate the traction lines in Superior will be put up to the voters at the spring election to be held in April. Formal action to that end has just been taken by the city commission.

Under the provisions of a law passed at the last session of the legislature Superior will be able to condemn and purchase the local traction lines even though the stockholders of the company might prefer not to yield them.

GETS WRONG MAN FOR LOPEZ

Fall of Rock in Mine Sends Sheriff's Posse After Bandit.

Bingham, Utah, Jan. 6.—Rumor ran through this town that Ralph Lopez not only had been heard in the Utah-Apex mine, but that he had just escaped. A posse scaled the cliff and on the mountain top closed in on a Mexican, who proved not to be the desperado sought.

It was learned later that the men who said they had heard Lopez trying to break down a bulkhead had been deceived by a fall of rock.

Sheriff Smith's one hope now is that Lopez will be arrested in some distant city.

General Ortega Abandons Insurgent Attack.

FEDERALS MAY BE ADVANCING

Large Force of Government Soldiers Is Reported to Be Within Four Days' March of Ojinaga Planning to Steal Upon the Rebel Rear and Rescue the Federal Garrison With Its Half Score of Generals.

Marfa, Mex., Jan. 6.—Hostilities between the Northern division of the Mexican federal army, defending the fort at Ojinaga, Mex., opposite here, and General Ortega's 6,000 rebels ceased as suddenly as they began a week ago.

Without any federal activities to provoke his move General Ortega withdrew all his troops seven miles westward along the Rio Grande, supposedly to await the arrival of reinforcements from Chihuahua.

Information also had reached the rebels that a large body of federals which had been on the way from Jimenez, under command of General Arguendo, were within four days' march of Ojinaga and were planning to steal upon Ortega's rear and rescue the federal garrison with its half a score of generals.

As soon as the rebel forces marched from sight the federals wandered over the battlefield to pick up the wounded. Part of the rebel reinforcements which General Villa was recently reported to have dispatched from Chihuahua was intercepted by the federals, it was learned. Colonel Roza and two rebel captains were captured with two automobiles loaded with ammunition. They were executed in the plaza at noon.

OLD RUMOR AGAIN REVIVED

Said General Huerta Will Regain and Take the Field.

Mexico City, Jan. 6.—That General Huerta intends to resign the presidency of Mexico in the near future—a rumor often denied by him in the most emphatic terms—again is being reported persistently in the capital. It is said he will take the field in person against the rebels, after yielding the presidential office. Enrique Gerozieta, minister of justice, is the man who will be selected as his successor, according to the rumored understanding.

Senor Goestieta has asked to be relieved of his portfolio, which is regarded as lending color to the report. Gerozieta is said to have been offered the portfolio of foreign affairs, succeeding Querido Moheño, with the understanding that he is to assume the presidency. It is said he has consented to the plan only on condition that the deputies imprisoned by Huerta upon the dissolution of congress last October be set at liberty. He had many friends among the deputies and has never been in sympathy with General Huerta's treatment of them.

MINISTER IS NOT ADVISED

Sir Lionel Carden Doubts Story of His Transfer.

Mexico City, Jan. 6.—Sir Lionel Carden had not been advised of his intended transfer to Brazil when the news was conveyed to him. He expressed doubt as to the authenticity of the announcement on the ground that the appointment of a new minister to Mexico would constitute a reaffirmation of the recognition of President Huerta by Great Britain.

It is no secret that Sir Lionel Carden's ideas, since he came here six months ago, have been at variance with President Wilson's policy of non-recognition of Mexico. He did not hesitate openly to express his opposition.

PETERSON OUT FOR GOVERNOR

Minneapolis Man Enters Republican Primary Campaign.

Minneapolis, Jan. 6.—James A. Peterson of Minneapolis announced himself as a candidate for governor in a statement covering the issues he will speak on during the Republican primary campaign. He attacks the growth in state expenses, arraigns Governor A. O. Eberhart for his vetoes of the Nolan and Minette bills and his support of a state public utilities commission, and attacks State Auditor S. G. Iverson, another rival, charging inefficient management of the state land department.

Mr. Peterson campaigned the state in 1912 as a candidate for the United States senate and polled 63,431 votes against Senator Knute Nelson, who received 88,145 votes.

Jerome C. Shear's Work on Naturalization Laws is so Characterized by Government

In a circular letter received by Clerk of the District Court W. A. M. Johnston from the secretary of the United States Department of Labor, Mr. W. B. Wilson, the latter states:

It has been brought to the attention of the Department that a publication entitled "Syllabus-Digest of Decisions under the Law of Naturalization of the United States," purporting to be the work of Mr. Jerome C. Shear, Chief Naturalization Examiner at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, has been issued and is being advertised for sale by circular letters.

In order that the public may not assume, from the published position and title of the author, that the contents of said publication are, in whole or in part, an authoritative expression of the official administrative view, the Department feels it to be incumbent upon it to disavow all responsibility for the contents of said publication. The Department advises all whom it may concern that it alone has authority to determine whether an official publication should be issued in relation to any law over which it has administrative supervision, or what, if such publication should be issued, its contents should be.

All officers of the Naturalization Service are directed to give this circular such publicity as may be necessary to counteract any misapprehension as to the character of Examiner Shear's publication.

Tides of the Mind.
Shakespeare tells us that there is a tide in the affairs of men. Certainly there is a tide in the minds of men. He must be very observant of himself who does not know that the mind rises and falls, that it swells into fullness and strength and then fades into emptiness and weakness, we know not how, we know not why. Formerly the tides of the sea were also a great mystery. Slowly did observation disclose that they were under the influence of the moon and, still later, of the sun. So with the tides of the mind. We are taught now that they are caused and governed by our faith and by our love. —Theophilus Parsons.

COUNCIL BOOSTS SALOON LICENSE

and After July 1 the Annual License Fee will be $1,000—The New Lateral Sewer

IDS FOR MINING CITY LANDS

estimate Filed to Pave North Seventh From Juniper to Bluff—Kick About Light

By a vote of 8 to 2, the council last night boosted the saloon license from $500 a year to $1,000 to take effect on and after July 1, 1914.

On motion of Alderman Gallupe, seconded by Alderman Peterson, ordinance No. 257, as the saloon license ordinance is numbered, was taken up. In discussing it preparatory to its second reading, Alderman Stallman said the proposed license figure was altogether too high for the present time. Alderman Mahlum said it was an inopportune time to raise the license and that he would vote not to increase it.

On its second reading Alderman Mahlum and Stallman voted nay, eight aldermen voted aye, being Aldermen Smith, Hess, Peterson, Anderson, Betzold, Haake, Gallupe and Lagrquist.

On the third reading and its passage the vote stood the same, 8 to 2. All voted aye on the ordinance regarding the maintaining and placing, string, etc., of electrical appliances, etc. The ordinance was adopted.

The liquor license transfer of Edw. Neumann to August Miller was granted.

City Engineer C. D. Peacock's estimate of $7,706.95 for the paving with cement of North Seventh street from Juniper to Bluff was accepted and placed on file.

A resolution that lateral sewer A5 be constructed in sewer district No. 1 was adopted, all voting aye.

The question of a sewer through the dump was again taken up and the city engineer, city attorney and city clerk were made a committee to investigate.

Bids for the exploration and mining of the Holland lands bequeathed to the city were opened, J. R. Harrington, of Hibbing, having submitted a bid. No action was taken, the council withholding action to have the city clerk correspond with Mr. Harrington about certain points. The matter was laid on the table until the next regular meeting.

The city clerk's report of receipts and disbursements, the chief of police report and the street commissioner's report were read, accepted and placed on file.

Secretary of the Water and Light board Wm. Nelson submitted records of the fluctuations in electric light service. A needle runs a red ink line in a circular card for each 24 hours and thus leaves a legible record of the kind of service given by the Cuyuna Range Power Co.

City Attorney Haggard said the company had violated its contract and that the city could terminate it. The council, however, did not think such strenuous measures should be adopted and they agreed that a protest should be framed by the city clerk and city attorney voicing objection to the situation in the service.

The payrolls were allowed, including the city officers' salaries, Park opera house rent $50, the regular fire department and the state's 2 per cent share of the liquor licenses amounting to $90.71 and termed the inebriate fund.

An objection was made here that all of Brainerd's candidates for the inebriate asylum at Willmar were not acceptable and that Brainerd was paying this tax and getting no benefits. It was said by some that this inebriate asylum was for curable cases. Most of the cases bothering the committee on poor relief are heavy drinkers who are past curing.

The police department bill amounted to $475. The bill for hydrant rental was helped up until the water and light board fixes up all the hydrants in the city and this means some which have been brought to the attention of the board months ago.

The street department payroll was $4,79, volunteer fire department $32, first National bank sewer warrants interest $10.33, water and light board current $409.90, water and light board material and labor $81.85.

The proposition to buy an adding machine was turned down until a later date. Should a city hall be built, said Alderman Mahlum, then the one adding machine of the water and light board would be sufficient for the requirements of all departments of the city.

Alderman Betzold brought up the matter of a road through the Holland addition and the city engineer was instructed to take soundings.

Shall two houses be assessed for a general district sewer when they are below the level of the sewer, was asked of the city attorney. There are two houses in a hollow near South Tenth, Norwood and Oak streets which are in this predicament.

Police matter were discussed. Alderman Stallman said he had received complaints that Officer Mike Setala was "too fresh." Mayor Hennig took the policeman's part and said that if people had any complaint to make they should formulate it and present all particulars to the mayor. He was ready at any time to consider any complaints. He said some people did not like Officer Setala because he had been a very active man.

CIRCUIT COURT AFFIRMS SENTENCE

Special to Dispatch:

Chicago, Ill., January 6—The judgment of the Federal District Court at Indianapolis sentencing to prison thirty members of the International Association of Structural Iron Workers was affirmed today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here in twenty-four cases. Six cases were reversed. The cases reversed were remanded to the lower court for retrial.

when acting as traffic policeman, making numerous arrests. The mayor explained why the police force had been increased in size.

As the city is interested in a future water supply, City Engineer Peacock suggested that the city take the opportunity to test the water at the Brainerd Laundry Co. plant which has a deep well and a fine pumping plant. Invaluable data can be secured at small cost. The council accepted the plan.

Alderman Smith said an auxiliary water supply should be provided for. At any time the main line to the pumping station was liable to give away in case of a large fire when extraordinary pressure was brought to bear on it.

On motion the city will enter into an easement deed from the Northern Pacific railway covering land where the Northeast Brainerd bridge now stands.

The matter of providing a punishment for minors who attempt to buy or secure liquor was taken up. The council had the law as drawn up in Duluth and now ordered to be enforced vigorously by W. A. Hicken, commissioner of safety, and which provides fine or imprisonment for any boys found loitering in saloons. There was also the St. Cloud ordinance making it a misdemeanor on a boy's part to make misstatements about his age. All were submitted to the city attorney to draft a suitable ordinance.

Alderman Smith was appointed to represent the council in the Associated Charities organization.

The Booster club resolution submitted by the Improvements Committee was read, accepted and filed. It stated, in short, that the city should give the preference to a mining company which would develop the city mineral land holdings, thus barring speculators.

The Brainerd Ice Co.'s building was objected to as being unsafe, the petition presented bearing the names of several West Brainerd and west side people. The council ordered the company notified.

On motion, the council adjourned to Wednesday night, January 7, at 8 o'clock.

He received in return the 1912 tax lists with all taxes duly receipted save and except some $30,000 still unpaid out of a total of $317,000.

These will now be known as delinquent taxes and the auditor will begin at once to build up the list for publication in February and judgment will be entered in March unless paid before that time.

Much interest is being taken in the election. Definite results, however, cannot be obtained until the midnight hour. The polling places are open until 9 o'clock this evening.

To carry the bond issues a four-fifths majority of the vote cast is necessary.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Increased Activity is Noticeable in Pit Mining on the Cuyuna Iron Range

CUYUNA IRON & MANGANESE CO.

And Jones & Laughlin Feigh Holdings to be Pit Mined, Possibly 13-45-30 Too

The season of 1914 on the Cuyuna iron range holds forth the inauguration of increased activity in pit mining.

The Rowe pit mine will make its first shipments this year and will supply the furnaces of the Pittsburgh Steel company. By hydraulic work and steam shovels the ore bed has been uncovered and Capt. Barr has things in shape to ship thousands of tons, some believe more than the entire range shipped in 1913. The Soo railway has built a roundhouse and machine shop at Riverton near the mine and is preparing to handle the immense tonnage, which may be seen in its purchase of 1,000 steel ore cars, where formerly 100 cars were sufficient to handle the range ore traffic.

The Pennington pit mine has had two shovels at work preparing things for the shipping season of 1914. It is reported the shovel now working may close down the middle of the month.

The Inland Steel company has finished its new approach to the Thompson pit mine north of Crosby and it saves a half a mile of haulage in getting the overburden to the dump. This mine, formerly an underground proposition, will ship as a pit mine this year. The work of changing the character of the mine is in charge of Capt. Wearne and he has made very good progress with one shovel.

Last week a young engineer employed on the Panama canal visited the pit mine territory near Crosby and Ironton and said that the work done there was as efficient and resembled greatly the canal work.

The property of the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore Co., north of the Pennington pit mine, will be converted into a pit mine and operations are expected to be commenced this season. This company has shown up on its property a stretch of ore extending three-quarters of a mile in an unbroken line, at least 300 feet or more in width and at an average depth of 57 feet or more from the surface. The land is dry and the company has ground enough to provide surface for dumpage. The Helmer Exploration company is drilling here. Hole 33 is down 530 feet and struck ore from 57 feet down. Hole 35 is in good ore which was shown up from 60 to 290 feet, the present depth. Millions of tons of ore have already been blocked out.

The Feigh lands near by are being checked by the Jones & Laughlin Steel company and the property will doubt be converted into a pit mine. Two drills are busily engaged on this property.

East of Brainerd interests holding the mineral lands in section 13, township 45, range 30 may convert their land into a pit mine. The ore is at a moderate depth from the surface and an immense tonnage has been shown up by drilling.

The pit mine at Riverton, where the Pittsburgh Steel Ore Co. is getting ready to ship has two engines and trains of dump cars working night and day without a break. The mild weather has enabled them to keep their hydraulic work in operation until the recent cold snap. A two-story round house has been built by the Soq and at the machine shop recently erected lathes and drills and other machinery are being installed.

In Riverton 18 residences are under construction and will be plastered next week. A coal dock has recently been completed at the pit mine and a new spreader has been received at the dump, a great improvement over the old one.

Conditions are very hopeful on the range and the new year starts with every assurance that a large tonnage will be gotten out by the mines of the district. The spirit of uncertainty has given way to one of confidence. Activity in exploration and drilling will be continued. There are no labor troubles and the work of drilling, mining and development is being carried on with enthusiasm.

Many of the mines and drills closed down for the Christmas-New Year holidays and reopened on January 5. This layoff was utilized to make needed repairs to shafts and other improvements.

The Rogers, Brown Ore Co. Armour No. 2 at Crosby and the Kennedy at Cuyuna will commence work on January 5 with full crews. In an interview H. J. Kruse, superintendent of the Rogers, Brown Ore Co. said that the Rogers, Brown Ore Co. has contracted to take the entire output of the Armour No. 2 mine. The Armour No. 1 mine may be opened up again when navigation begins. The Kennedy mine at Cuyuna will get out its regular quota.

W. H. Locker, of the Lodger-Donahue Co. of Duluth, has been at Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, and has closed contracts to take the entire output of the Cuyuna-Duluth mine at Ironton and the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine north of the town. The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine is shipping all rail to Manitowish, Mich., and they are hoisting 250 tons daily from the first level. A hundred men are at work at the Cuyuna-Duluth mine where mining and sinking operations are being carried on.

The Northern Pacific railway is building an extension to the timber shaft of the Kennedy mine at Cuyuna.

The Northern Pacific railway is also under contract to build an extension from the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine to the Duluth-Brainerd mine, which latter mine has its shaft in ledge and will do some shipping in 1914.

The Iron Mountain Mining company's mine near by will also ship its first ore in 1914.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Duluth-Brainerd Iron company will be held in Duluth on January 10 for the purpose of electing seven directors. Reports of the officers of the company will be read.

North of and adjoining the village limits of Crosby, Cole & McDonald have a drill working on the Jamison & Peacock holdings. Very rich ore has been shown up and a sufficient body is believed to have been revealed to warrant the establishment of a mine.

The Adams mine at Oreland is drifting preparatory to stockpiling.

The Barrows mine of the Virginia Ore Mining Co., at Barrows, is stockpiling and in addition completing a new five-compartment shaft. To drain it a level was run from an old shaft to a point below the new shaft, properly bulk-headed and then drilled up and drained which method has made further sinking in the new shaft comparatively easy.

The Brainerd-Cuyuna mine in the city limits of Brainerd struck water in the gravel seam sixty-eight feet from the surface. Heretofore nothing but hardpan had been encountered. The flow is about 250 gallons a minute and easily handled by the two Cameron sinker pumps. Springs in the neighborhood, owing to the pumpage of the mine, are drying up.

The Cuyuna Central Iron Co. is reported to have made a rich find of ore in the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 27, township 47, range 29. The fourteen holes drilled have all been bottomed in ore. This new find is a short distance from the Iron Mountain Mining Co. mine and half a mile east of the town of Manganese. It is near the Hunter property in section 22, township 47, range 29, upon which a big body of ore was proved up by Patrick Hammel, William Rock, John P. Hollihan and others of Duluth.

G. H. Wyman, of Anoka, has a drill at work in the northwest quarter of section 30, township 46, range 29.

The Cuyuna-Iron Valley Mining company is in ore in three holes, the drilling being done by the Helmer Exploration company on the property north of Rabbit Lake.

The Star drill is laid up waiting for a reaming bit. It is reported to be down 147 feet. This is the drill which has been extensively used in the oil fields and was being given a tryout on the Cuyuna iron range.

BRAINERD TO VOTE ON BONDS

Ironton News Urges Brainerd to Brace up and be a Real Metropolis, a Pride to County

The Ironton News keeps tab on the situation in Brainerd and in its issue of January 3, 1914, the editor, Kirk Himrod, says:

"Perhaps it is none of the business of the people of this part of the county what Brainerd does at its bond election Tuesday, but it must be taken into consideration that as it is the metropolis and county seat of Crow Wing county it is under some obligations to the county to present a reasonably thrifty appearance, and to do its share towards making this a better and bigger county. The proposed bonds are to build a city hall, in place of renting as now, to build a fire hall in place of the shack they now have, to do some badly needed filling and to make other minor improvements.

"Because Brainerd once bought a gold brick is no reason why it should get down in the mouth and refuse to take its proper place in the new county that is so rapidly growing up around it.

"It ought to brace up and be a real metropolis, one that will not need to explain or apologize for any lack of municipal thrift or enterprise."

PRESIDENT ALLBRIGHT RETURNS

Reports that Development Associations of State are to Form a State Federation

President C. A. Albright, of the Northern Minnesota Development Association, has returned from Minneapolis and in speaking of development matters said that a plan was under way to organize the officers of the three development associations of the state under one federation to cooperate on all matters of statewide interest.

A meeting of the president and secretary of the Northern Minnesota Development Association, Southern Minnesota Better Development League and the West Central Development Association to perfect such an organization has been called at the Frederick hotel, St. Paul, January 14th at 1:30 P. M.

Brainerd and Northern Minnesota will be glad to know that Dr. Cyrus Northrup, the grand old man, who was so many years president of the University of Minnesota, will deliver an address at the December meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development Association at Brainerd, December 1, 2, 3 and 4, on "The New Political Era." The doctor is 80 years old, but is hale and vigorous and is and has been for the past 40 years one of the foremost educators and thinkers of the United States. Mr. Albright is to be congratulated on securing such a prominent man on a subject of so much interest to the people of Minnesota.

Dr. Northrup stated that while he was an old man and one could not always tell what would happen a year hence, that if he was alive and his health good he would address the convention at Brainerd.

SPEECH WELL RECEIVED

Watson S. Moore, of Duluth, Spoke on Commission Government and Praised Brainerd Plan

Watson S. Moore, of Duluth, gave a most forceful talk for the charter at the opera house last night. He first told of the failing of the federal plan and then gave a general outline of the requisites of good government. He then told of the success of the commission form of government in Duluth—how greater efficiency had resulted; how immune the commissioners have been from graft and how much more the people had secured for their money than under the old system.

He then gave a most hearty endorsement of the business manager plan of the proposed charter when he said that while their charter was accomplishing much for economy, efficiency and the social good of the city yet he said the business manager plan was a decided improvement upon the Duluth charter. His audience gave him a very respectful hearing.

Startling Exclusive Improvements Mark the 1914 Harley-Davidson

Step-Starter—Selective Two-Speed—Double Brake Control—Double Control of Free Wheel—Folding Foot Boards—Ful-Floting Seat, and Other Improvements.

Step-Starter Starts Machine With Rider in the Saddle and Both Wheels on the Ground

THE 1914 Harley-Davidson is marked for the innovations it presents. Innovations, but not experiments, for every feature has stood the test of months and months of hard road service. The Step-Starter—an exclusive feature—furnishes the only practical method of starting a motorcycle. If the rider accidentally stalls the motor it is no longer necessary to hold up traffic on a crowded street, find a level place in the road, get off in the mud, and set the machine on the stand to start it. A downward push on either pedal and the motor again begins to throb.

Selective Type of Two-Speed

The Harley-Davidson selective type of two-speed has proven itself to be exceptionally reliable, extremely simple and wonderfully efficient. It is housed inside the rear hub, thus avoiding dust, dirt or damage. Its speeds are selective and the rider can shift from low to high or high to low or to neutral at any time whether the machine is standing still or in motion.

Double Brake Control

The new Harley-Davidson Band Brake may be operated by a foot lever on the right foot board or by back pedaling on either pedal.

Double Control of Free Wheel

Free Wheel Control is operated by hand or foot. With his hands on the handle-bars the rider has complete control of the 1914 Harley-Davidson.

Folding Foot Boards

The Harley-Davidson foot boards are unusually long permitting a great variety of positions according to the height of the rider. This overcomes the great objection to the ordinary type of foot boards built only to fit the ordinary man. With the Harley-Davidson foot boards whether the rider is tall or short he is not forced to assume an uncomfortable position.

Ful-Floting Seat

For the third successive year the ful-floting seat is standard. This patented device floats the weight of the rider between two concealed springs, assimilating all jares and vibration due to rough road.

Other Refinements

Over thirty desirable improvements are noticeable on the new Harley-Davidson.

EXPERTS DISCUSS MONEY LAW; BULKLEY ON PROBABLE EFFECT

It Will Work Out Better For Country Banks, Says Ohio Congressman

Financiers Hopeful, but as a Whole Are Cautious In Predictions

WITH the signing of the new currency bill by President Wilson the second biggest piece of business of the Democratic administration is out of the way, and, as in the case of the new tariff law, the country must wait to see how it works out. While confident of the result, the president and his advisers are no less interested than the country at large in awaiting the sequel to these epochal events in our political history, in seeing their results in practical demonstration.

The next step is the naming by the president of the federal reserve board of seven. The secretary of the treasury and the new comptroller of the currency will be members, and the other five will be chosen from private life.

President Wilson is credited with desiring Senator John W. Weeks of Massachusetts to serve on the federal reserve board.

The indications are that in spite of his declaration that he would decline membership on the board an effort will be made to induce James J. Hill to become the head of that organization, a position that will carry with it the title of governor.

Wilson Happy and Optimistic.

Many months' hard work was put in by the framers of the bill, and the president in his address upon the occasion of affixing his signature to the measure paid special tributes to Representative Carter Glass and Senator

Robert L. Owen, chairman of the respective congressional committees. It was a happy moment for the president, and he showed it as, reaching for the fourth gold pen in signing the bill, he jokingly remarked to those about him, "I'm drawing on the 40 per cent gold reserve."

After signing the bill he said in part: "As for the bill itself, I feel that we can say that it is the first of a series of constructive measures by which the Democratic party will show that it knows how to serve the country. In calling it the first of a series of constructive measures I need not say that I am not casting any reflections on the great tariff bill which preceded it. The tariff bill was meant to remove those impediments to American industry and prosperity which had so long stood in their way. It was a great piece of preparation for the achievements of American commerce and American industry which are certain to follow. Then there came upon the heels of it this bill which furnishes the machinery for free and elastic and uncontrolled credit put at the disposal of the merchants and manufacturers of this country for the first time in fifty years.

I have been surprised at the sudden acceptance of this measure by public opinion everywhere. I am surprised because it seems as if it had suddenly become obvious to men who had looked at it with too critical an eye that it was really meant in their interest. They have opened their eyes to see a thing which they had supposed to be hostile to be friendly and serviceable—exactly what we intended it to be and what we shall intend all our legislation to be.

The men who have fought for this measure have fought nobody. They have simply fought for those accommodations which are going to secure us in prosperity and peace.

"I never had any doubt," said Secretary McAdoo, "that the national banks would enter the system. My experience is that after a law of this character is passed there is a patriotic acceptance of it. This law, I believe, will prove the greatest thing that has happened in the country in a generation."

Making System Operative

Immediately the new banking system became law it was announced that the organization work would be undertaken at once by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Secretary of Agriculture Houston of the committee charged by law with the task. The third member of the committee, which is known as the reserve bank organization committee, is the comptroller of the currency. That office is vacant and will be filled by the president upon his return from Mississippi. John Skelton Williams, assistant secretary of the treasury, is said to be the president's choice for comptroller. Congress has adjourned until Jan. 12, and in the absence of the third member there will be no formal meeting until after that date.

The first duty of the reserve bank organization committee is to designate the federal reserve cities. Under the law there are to be not less than eight or more than twelve.

There is considerable speculation as to the probable location of these federal reserve banks.

All national banks are required by the law to become members of the federal reserve banking system or surrender their charters.

Cities Up to Requirements.

The capital and surplus of banks entering the system and the relative aggregate of the capital and surplus of prospect member banks in financial centers throughout the country will be carefully considered.

The only cities in which the capital and surplus of national banks are in excess of $25,000,000, with the approximate capital and surplus of such banks located in them, are these:

Boston, over $45,000,000; New York city, over $240,000,000; Philadelphia, over $65,000,000; Pittsburgh, over $53,000,000; Chicago, over $39,000,000; St. Louis, over $32,000,000, and San Francisco, over $43,000,000.

Philadelphia is a strong candidate for selection as a regional reserve city.

Many western men have contended that there should be two regional cities on the Pacific coast. San Francisco would undoubtedly be one of them, but there would be keen rivalry between Portland and Seattle. Others believe that Minneapolis or St. Paul should be chosen as a regional center to accommodate the region between Chicago and the Pacific coast.

Leading Bankers' Opinions.

Now that the new system is a fact, state and national bankers are not disposed to be too critical. Opinions of men in various parts of the country are given herewith:

Paul M. Warburg of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York:

There cannot be any doubt that the enactment of this legislation will inaugurate a new era in the history of banking in the United States. While it is to be regretted that some important suggestions made by the business community could not be adopted, the fundamental thoughts, for the victory of which some of us have worked for so many years, have won out. It is to be said, from now on we shall witness the gradual elimination of the bond secured currency, of scattered reserves, of immobilized commercial paper and of pyramiding of call loans on the Stock Exchange. The ship is headed right, and nothing will ever turn her back into her old course.

Charles Smithers of F. S. Smithers & Co., New York:

We shall henceforth be able to finance our commercial operations without recourse to such a large amount of actual banking capital as was necessary before. It will be done on credit, backed by the mobilized power of the entire banking resources of the United States. This is going to release huge sums of capital, which will undoubtedly be employed in further developing the splendid resources of this country.

Newton D. Alling, vice president of the National Nassau bank, New York:

Of the currency changes the most important is that affecting the reserves. For any one to prophesy just what result this changed requirement is going to have in any one section at any one time would be presumption. But after a considerable period of adjustment and reestablishment of relations its general effect should be beneficial all over the country.

George H. Prince, chairman of the board of directors of the Merchants' National bank of St. Paul, Minn.:

While the bill is a good one, it has many defects that will have to be remedied. It will take at least a year to make the currency law workable and thoroughly understood. During that time Europe will be a little cautious. There is absolutely no reason for any serious change or depression.

Edmund D. Hullbert, vice president of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company, Chicago:

Of course, from the viewpoint of the bankers, the measure contains many objectionable features; but, on the whole, it is a sound bill and will do much toward putting banking and currency on a firm footing.

John C. Mitchell, president of the Denver National bank:

I should say that the new law is 80 per cent good, though I do not entirely agree with some of its provisions. If it is carried out according to its terms we shall never have another panic.

Thomas H. West, chairman of the St. Louis Union Trust company:

I have faith in the measure, and, while it may not be perfect, it can readily be changed to conform to unforeseen conditions after the reorganization.

F. O. Watts, president of the Third National bank, St. Louis:

I believe the changes in the senate have served to make the bill very superior to the form in which it passed the house. I think it is a workable bill and contains all the essentials of a good banking and currency measure.

Robert F. Madden, president of the American National bank of Atlanta, Ga.:

The purpose of the bill to mobilize the currency is good. The only question is whether the measure will accomplish that.

W. M. Habliston, chairman of the board of the First National bank, president of the Broad Street bank and the Old Dominion Trust company, Richmond, Va.:

The bill is a great improvement over the one which has been in effect for several years. It will result in an elastic currency which will avert panics.

Oliver J. Sands, president of the American National bank, Richmond, Va.:

The passage of the currency measure will have a beneficial effect upon the country at large, and its operation will help business.

Calls Bill a Menace.

Charles McKnight, president of the National Bank of Western Pennsylvania:

I do not think the bill should have been passed. It will do the country no good—

tional Trades bank, New Haven, Conn.:

If the banks of the country work in harmony to carry out the provisions of the new law I believe it will result in a great improvement. I do not object and can see no good reason for objection to the regional bank.

Figures Out Results of Law.

Representative Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio, a member of the house banking and currency committee, says the new system will work out better for the country banks. According to Mr. Bulkley the country banks' old reserves will pay the new and leave a surplus of $40,000,000.

He says that in three years—thirty-six months after the new act is in effect—the federal reserve banks will have in total assets, cash $450,215,000 and loans $171,556,000.

At that time, asserts Bulkley, their capital would be $53,445,000, and their deposits $508,326,000, totaling the same as the assets of course. This is assuming that $140,000,000 in government deposits will be withdrawn from the United States treasury and be deposited in the banks.

Mr. Bulkley has endeavored to explain how the new currency law will work out without disturbing business.

All the changes he works out in detail. He figures the withdrawals from the country banks at $270,451,000 and the release of the reserve city banks at $169,745,000. His totals of payments made show cash $86,269,600, from reserve agents $169,745,000 and rediscunts $44,816,000, a grand total of payments of $300,770,600.

Mr. Bulkley says that the central reserve city banks would pay to the new federal reserve banks $259,968,000 cash, and would then probably have to rediscount to the extent of $125,740,000, making a total payment which they would have to make of $385,708,000. All this he holds, would in the thirty-six months be accomplished without any tightening of credits or disturbance of business.

MARSHALL NOW NOT SO RADICAL

Says "Give Patient a Chance" After New Legislation.

REGIONAL BANKS SCRAMBLE.

Many Cities Want to Be Money Centers—Government Ownership of Telegraph and Telephone Lines Not Likely to Come For Some Time, if at All.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 1.—[Special.]—Government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines is not to come at once. In fact, it will be a long time in the future provided there is a reform in the service and the charges and the general conduct of such lines. The house is ready to follow Postmaster General Burleson, but it is believed that the president, backed by Attorney General McReynolds and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, will keep congress from moving too rapidly in the matter of acquiring the lines of electrical communication.

A very thoughtful and comprehensive statement of the whole situation has been made by Congressman Lewis of Maryland, who has gone deep into the subject and printed as a part of his speech about all the facts existing, but it will take a long time to secure any action, even if favored by the president. Without the support of the president nothing can be done.

"Give the Patient a Chance."

Vice President Marshall, who has been regarded as quite radical in all matters, is opposed to any further legislation which will affect business. "Give the patient a chance," he told several of his political friends. The vice president indicated that the tariff and currency bills are enough at present.

Want the Regional Banks.

Will politics play any part in the location of the regional banks? Just before the recess a controversy sprang up between Senators Chamberlain of Oregon and Poindexter of Washington in which it developed that Portland and Seattle, two rival cities of the Pacific northwest, were contending for a regional bank. Naturally it will be interesting to note whether the Republican and Progressive senator of Washington or the Democratic senator of Oregon will be able to land this plum, for it seems to be considered a plum by the cities which are seeking the regional banks. There is also a fear that the demand for regional banks will tend to increase rather than decrease the number of such banks.

The Politics of It.

Surprise was expressed that Senator Weeks should have voted for the currency bill, and it was claimed that business interests of Massachusetts were opposed to the measure. "That may be so," remarked a New England man, "but Weeks is more than seven years old, and the people of Massachusetts and not the state legislature elect senators in these days. It will not be surprising to find that the people of New England, outside of the banking interests, will generally approve the new measure."

"And That Reminds Me."

This remark reminds me of another incident that recently happened. A western senator decided to appoint his son to one of the new clerkships that was created for senators having less than three employees. The son was not in Washington, did not intend to be in Washington, but the senator was going to use that place as so much graft. "Look here," said a friend, "you had better remember that the people instead of the legislatures elect senators now, and when they hear about this back home your name will be mud."

"I guess I'll think about that for awhile," said the senator. And it is probable that son will not draw down

$1,440 a year for doing nothing except being the son of a senator.

"Silly," Declared Howard.

There was controversy in the house over newspaper criticism of members, particularly of Crisp of Georgia. Howard of Georgia was denouncing the newspaper methods when J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia bounded in with a question.

"If the comments had been favorable to Mr. Crisp would you raise any objection to them?"

"Of course not," replied Howard.

"The question is silly."

"Silly?" asked Moore in surprise.

"Of course it is silly and no sense in it," retorted Howard, whereupon the members present had the laugh on Moore.

"The Mailed Fist."

It is said that Oscar Underwood gets things pushed through the house because he is so gentle, so suave, so considerate, and all that. But he has "the mailed fist" when necessary. For instance, the day they closed up the currency bill in the house he was trying to make arrangements satisfactory to everybody, and first one and then another interposed objection. Finally Underwood said:

"Of course I recognize there are two ways in which to get through—one is with an ax, and the other is without an ax. When we use an ax it usually takes as long to cut our way through as by common consent."

And they agreed to his proposition.

TO FLY OVER SAHARA.

There May Be a French Mail Line by Air Across Great Desert.

The National Aerial league has completed plans for a flight of a flotilla of aeroplanes across the Sahara or Great desert. They will start from Oran, Algeria, and the final landing will be made at Timbuktu, French Sudan, a distance of 1,400 miles. Pyramids of stones will be placed at intervals to mark the route.

If the experiment proves successful the establishment of a regular air mail service will be considered.

Amateur Wireless Hails Eiffel Tower.

Nicholas Jeffries, twenty years old, an amateur wireless operator, announces that he has talked with the Eiffel tower in Paris from his wireless plant at Atlantic City. The plant is on the roof of the home of his parents.

What We Owe to Baseball.

To baseball, according to A. G. Spalding in World's Work, is due our athletic supremacy over the rest of the world. "Baseball," he says, "combines running, jumping, throwing and everything that constitutes the athletic events of the Olympian games. But above all it imparts to the player that degree of confidence in competition, that indefinable something, that enables one athlete to win over another who may be his physical equal, but who is lacking the American spirit begotten of baseball."

A Witty Reply.

A witty but not overindustrious Celt was one of a street gang. A few minutes before noon one day he threw his shovel into the gutter, sat down on the curbstone and proceeded to light his pipe. Just then the superintendent of streets came round a corner and, seeing Pat, roared out:

"Here! What are you throwing down your shovel for at this time of day?"

"To cool it, sorr," said Pat.—London Telegraph.

A Burst of Genius.

"If twenty men reap a field in eight hours, how long will it take fifteen men to reap the same field?" a student was asked. He thought long before writing down the answer, and when he handed in his paper this is what the examiner read. "The field, having already been reaped by the twenty men, could not be reaped a second time by the fifteen."

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Quick Relief

A few doses of Hindipo never fail to relieve such troubles, because it cleans out the clogged up, inactive organs, and makes them work properly. It soaks right into the kidneys, cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the tender membranes of the bladder; dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles, and scratch and irritate, and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the lifeless kidneys so they can filter and sift the poison from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

So sure—so positive—so quick and lasting are the results obtained from Hindipo that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to end the worst backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders and put the kidneys in healthy, active condition.

It is practically impossible to take this quick-acting, effective preparation without results.
